BALFOUR IN NEW NOTE TO U. S. TELLS WHY ALLIES BELIEVE WAR MUST GO ON

Amplifies Entente Reply to President's Peace Note; Expresses Belief Future Peace Must Be Built Upon Treaties and Law Backed by International Sanction.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.-The entente allies, in a note addressed by Arthur Balfour, British Foreign Minister, to Ambassador Spring-Rice, and delivered vesterday to the State Department, am plify their reply to President Wilson's peace note, by telling in detail why they elieve it to be impossible at present o attain a peace which will assure them such guarantees as they consider

The note also tells why the allies de nand the expulsion of Turkey from Surope; restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to France, of Italia Irredenta to Italy the world may be insured by interna ional treaties and international laws he note says, have ill-learned the lesons taught by recent history.

Great Britain's note was entirely un expected to officials here but was grati ying because they interpreted it as a stop toward world federation to preserve eace which President Wilson, both in is speeches and in his peace note, has ledged the United States. The text of Balfour's note, dated Jan

3, and addressed to Sir Cecil, follows: Text of the Note. "In sending you a translation of the allied note, I desire to make the following observations which you should bring to the notice of the Inited States Government:

"I gather from the general tenor of the President's note that, while he is animated by an intense desire that peace should come soon and lasting, he does not for the moment at least concern himself with the terms on which it should be arranged. His majesty's Gover entirely shares the President's ideas, but they feel strongly that the dura bility of peace must largely depend on its character and that no stable system of international relations can be built on foundations which are essentially and hopelessly defective.
"This becomes clearly apparent if we consider the main conditions which rendered possible the calamities from which the world is now suffering. These were the existence of great Powers consumed with the lust of domination in the midst of a community of nations ill prepared for defense, plentifully supplied indeed with international laws, but with n machinery for enforcing them and weakened by the fact that neither the boundaries of the various states nor their internal constitution har constituent races or secured to them

"That this last evil would be greatly mitigated if the allies secured the changes in the map of Europe outlined in their joint note is marifest, and I need not labor the point.

the expulsion of the Turks from Europe forms no proper or logical part of this general scheme. The tenance of the Turkish empire was during many generations regarded by statesmen of world-wide authority as essential to the maintenance of European peace. Why, is it asked, should the cause of peace be not associated with a complete reversal of this traditional policy:

have completely changed. It is un the creation of a reformed Turkey mediating between hostile races in the near East was a scheme which, had the Sultan been sincere and the Powers united, could ever have been realized. It certainly can not be realized now. The Turkey of 'Union realized now. The lurkey of Union and Progress' is at least as barbarous and is far more agressive than the Turkey of Sultan Abdul Hamid. In the hands of Germany it has ceased even in appearance to be a bulwark of peace and is openly used as an instrument of conquest.

"Under German officers Turkish soldiers are now fighting in fands from which they had long been expelled and a Turkish Government, controlled, subsidized and supported by Germany, has been guilty of massacres in Armenia and Syria more horrible than any recorded in the history even of those unhappy counpeace and the claims of nationality alien races shall if nossible be brought to an end, and we may hope that the expulsion of Turkey from Europe will contribute as much to the cause of peace as the restoration Italio Irredenta to Italy, or any of the other territorial changes indicated in the allied note.

"Evidently, however, such territorial re-arrangements, though they may diminish the occasions of war provide no sufficient security against ts recurrence. If Germany, or rather those in Germany who mold its opinions and control its destinies, again set out to domineer the world they may find that by the new order of things the adventure is made more difficult, but hardly that it is made impossible. They may still have ready to their hand a political system organized through and through on a military basis; they may still accumulate vast stores of military equipment; they may still persist in their methods of attack, so that their more pacific neighbors will be struck selves for defense. If so, Europe when the war is over will be far poorer in men, in money and in mutual good will than it was when the war began, but it will not be safer. and the hopes for the future of the world entertained by the President

"There are those who think that for this disease international treaties and international laws may provide a sufficient cure. But such persons have ill learned the lessons so clearly taught by recent history. While othnations, notably the United States of America and Britain, were striving by treaties of arbitration to make sure that no chance quarrel should mar the peace they desired to make perpetual, Germany stood aloof. Her historians and philosophers preached the spiendors of war; power was pro-claimed as the true end of the state; and the general staff urged with untiring industry the weapons by which at the appointed moment power might be achieved.

"These facts proved clearly enough that treaty arrangements for main-taining peace were not likely to find much favor at Berlin; they did not prove that such treatles once made would be utterly ineffectual. This became evident only when war had broken out; though the de tion, when it came, was overwhelm ing. So long as Germany remains the Germany which without a shadow of justification overran and barbarously ill-treated a country it was pledged to defend, no state can regard its rights as secure if they have no better protection than a so to the dust those with whom they were at war, but to intimidate those with whom they were still at peace. was an example. Neutrals were in-tended to note the outrages which accompanied its conquest, the reign of terror which followed on its oction of its population, the cruel op-pression of the remainder.

"The case is made worse by the reflection that these methods of calculated brutality were designed by the central Powers not merely to crush

"And lest the nations happily protected either by British fleets or by their own from German armies should suppose themselves safe from German methods, the submarine has (within its limits) assiduously imitated the barbarous practice of the sister service. The war staffs of the central Powers are well content to horrify the world if at the same time they can have proved itself the instrument of victory. Are the victors likely to it on the appeal of neutrals? If existing treatles are no more than scraps of paper, can fresh treaties help us? If the violation of the most fundamental can-ons of international law be crowned with success, will it not be in vain that the assembled nations labor to mprove their code? None will profit by their rules but Powers who break hem. It is those who keep them that will suffer.

Rights of Small States. ceed, it will be to methods like these that they will owe their success. How can any reform of international relations be based on a peace thus obtained? Such a peace would represent the triumph of all the forces which make war certain and make i brutal. It would advertise the futility of all the methods on which civilization relies to eliminate the occasions of international dispute and to mitigate their ferocity. Germany and Austria made the present war inevitable by attacking the rights of one small State, and they gained their initial triumphs by violating the treaty guarantees of the territories of another. Are small States going to find in them their future protectors or in treaties made by them a bu wark against aggression?

this country share to the full the sire of the President for peace they do not believe peace can be success of the allied cause. For a durable peace can hardly be expect ed unless three conditions are fulfilled. The first is that existing causes of international unrest should be as far as possible removed weakened. The second is that the aggressive aims and the unscrupulous methods of the central Powers should fall into disrepute among their own peoples. The third is that behind international law and behind all treaty arrangements for preventing or limiting hostilities some form of international sanction should be devised which would give pause to he hardiest aggressor.

"These conditions may be difficult of fulfillment. But we believe them to be in general harmony with the President's ideas and we are confified, even imperfectly, unless peace be secured on the general lines indicated (so far as Europe is concerned) "Therefore, it is that this country has made, is making and is prepared to make sacrifices of blood and treasure inparalleled in its history. It bears these heavy burdens not merely that t may thus fulfill its treaty obligations nor yet that it may secure a barren triumph of one group of na tions over another. It bears them because it firmly believes that on the success of the allies depend the propects of peaceful civilization and or those international reforms which the best thinkers of the new world as of

by Lloyd-George Because of Experience.

LONDON, Jan. 18.-American busine experience is what Lloyd-George was looking for when he upset all traditions and appointed Sir Albert Stanley as Minister of Commerce and President of the Board of Trade in the new Cab-

The title "Sir Albert" sounds quite English, but its owner is about as American as a man can well be. He lived as a boy at Detroit, Mich., went to the public schools there, got his firs "job" on the Detroit street railways and gradually rose to the management of that large concern; then became manager of the New Jersey Public Service Corporation; and, incidentally enlisted as a sailor in the United States Naval Reserve, which he served through the Spanish War on board the United States auxiliary cruiser Yo-semite.

This crowded 25 years of various kinds of active American experience into the life of Albert Stanley—the plain name by which he was known at the old Duffield School in Detroit—and flushed with his successes, he came to England to put his American training here, becoming manager of that vast system of surface and underground's traffic in London-the greatest in the world-known as the London Consoli dated Underground and General Motor bus Association, Limited. His title came to him later, and now the greater

American Experience as Asset. anyone," said Sir Albert to an Assoclated Press correspondent. "Travel and experience: those are the only means of getting an actual insight into the rea haracter and methods of a country.

"I nearly became a minister of the Gospel instead of a Cabinet Minister. When we were living in Detroit, over on the East Side, on Joseph Campan avenue, I wanted to go into the street railway business, and asked the minister at our church, the Rev. John Mun day, for a letter to Strathern Hendrie, secretary of the Detroit City Railway The good minister and my family thought I was better suited for the church, and I've thought lately how close I came to being a minister at De troit instead of at London. But I worked out the other way and I finally the way to present that letter I watched the joiting and jingling old horse-cars go past, and I said to myself right here, 'By Jove, I'm going to get on top of that concern.' and egotism," he laughed. "When the was presented and Strathern Hendrie gave me a job I really believe tire out within a month and go back to school. I was put out in the stables at the end of the branch line out Woodward avenue. It was the hardest kind of work. I had to get up at 6 o'clock in the morning, travel clear across the city, start work at 7:30 in the morning and keep at it until 10 o'clock at night.

"Later on Tom Johnson took hold of the street railway situation. There was at that time a well known local agitator named Jim Grant, who had great influence in stirring up the conductor and drivers. Tom Johnson gave Grant a good position to keep him under con-trol. Grant was made superintendent of one of the main lines, and it fell to my lot to get up the time schedule for that line. I presented it to Grant as superintendent, to go into effect next morning. He exploded.

"Not on your life, he said. The men wouldn't stand for such hours." "Then the men, hearing the noise came in the room. There was an angry uproar against me. I backed away un-til I got out of the room. That was the end of my schedule and the next day Jim Grant went home, sick.

"And as the schedule didn't go into effect, the chief superintendent sent for me. When I told of the exciting scene with Grant and the men the superinwith Grant and the men the superintendent said he was sorry I had gone through such an experience. That was the chance I had been waiting for.

"'Why not give me'a chance to run that line?" I suggested

"What! you, a mere boy, as superintendent?"

"'Give me a chance; I can do it," "He finally sent me to look after the line temporarily. There I stayed and Grant never came back,"

That Was His Start,

That was the start of Sir Albert's steady rise, until he was handling the whole railway system of Detroit and for 20 miles around and across the river for 20 miles around and across the river in Canada. Then came the big New Jersey consolidation, which appealed to him for the vastness of its physical and financial purposes, and he became the directing head of it. Later on a financial company in Boston thought he would be a good man to come over to London and look after the underground and traction affairs in which it was interested. He came to London, becoming finally head of its huge transportation system.

They Will Not Be Subject to Income Levy.

The fourth of a series of articles on the Farm Loan Act.

Farm lands have always been regarded as the safest security in the world. But loans made against farm lands have generally exacted a higher interest rate han loans made on other good security. There are several reasons for this. Such loans are not readily transfer-able, i. e., marketable. Farm loans are usually desired for long periods. A loan for less than five years is usually of little value to the farmer. If the loan s made for the purpose of buying land the farmer's chance to pay it off is to pay for itself in five years.

Well-managed commercial banks cannot make a business of lending money marketable security. Now the Government steps in and pro-

"We have enabled the farmers of the United States to give us their massed which are in reality first mortgages against the farms of all who join this pool. It is the best security in the world, because every dollar a farmer borrows is represented by $2 worth of land plus the stock each farmer has purto eventually give the farmer a lower interest rate, we have exempted them from all forms of taxation. Even Uncle Sam will not collect any tax from them, nor from the income upon them. No state or municipality may tax them. We have made these bonds in small denominations from $25 upward so their purchase will be easy among people with small savings, and we will have the bonds printed and engraved by the Government Bureau of Engraving and Print-ing to protect them against counterfeit-ing, and the United States Secret Service will watch over them."

So the farm loan act, in addition to providing money for land purchase and farm development, provides a new form of security which ought to become one of the most popular in existence, because it is based on the land values of the en-

J. S. Minister, Awaiting Orders, Money Back if You Want It. Denies He Was Forced From Post by German Authorities.

BERLIN. Jan. 18.—Charles J. Vopicka, United States Minister to Rumania, arrived here Tuesday at midnight. His party includes Secretary Ryland Andrews, the ministry clerk, an Englishman; Justin Merdicz, an Austrian clerk, Vopicka said he had had a strenuous time since Rumania entered the war, taking care of the interests of seven nations. Before the Germans came he looked after the Germans came he looked after the German and Turkish interests, afterwards the Rumanian, English, Italian and Servian.

He made a three-day trip through Rotenturn Pass to Berlin in a special train. On the first leg of the journey Vopicka said good-by to Queen Mary five days before Bucharest fell. King Ferdinand remained almost until the fall of Bucharest, he said.

"The Mayor asked me to go out with "The Mayor asked me to go out with the Dutch Minister and city heads," the Minister said, "to meet the expected Germans from Gen. Mackensen's army. None came. I went back to the lega-tion and a few minutes later the Mayor telephoned to me saying the Germans are already here!' They were some of Falkenhayn's men who had come from the other side."

Vopicka said the first German sol-diers to enter the fallen capital were 300 strong, marching through the streets singing "Deutschland uber alles" and "In der heimatf," while the natives who had apparently thought they would be slaughtered or otherwise mistreated were vastly relieved. They gave cigrettes and flowers to the soldiers. Vopicka also told of seeing the Russian forces enter Bucharest about 24 hours too late to save the situation and promptly depart again. Also he told whimsically how he had brought about the release of various Rumanian citizens, temporarily arrested as hostages, including some Judges, by urging the military authorities not to take away

The deepest impression was made on the American Minister by the Zeppelin and airplane bombardments and the ensuing terror of the populace in the city, which was dark.

Defends American Oil Mas.

Vopicka authorized me to quote him as saying that "the report that the Standard Oil representative, Everett J. Sadier, had taken part in directing the destruction of the Rumanian oil wells and refineries was untrue. I have affidavits from men who saw what happened. The destruction, which was ordered by the Rumanian Government, was not participated in by Sadier. I have with me a claim to present on his behalf against the Rumanian Government for damages to American oil properties which will amount to $0,000,000 to 100,000,000 frames ($25,000,000)."

Sadier was appointed by Vopicka as vice counsul to look after American interests in the oil district.

Vopicka said that there were about

Vopicka said that there were about ten Americans left in Bucharest and that absolute order prevailed. He re-ported that the city was not damaged and had not been subjected to bembard-ment. After the Germans entered they inaugurated their own administration without the slightest friction, he said.

U. S. Commercial Attache Says Panama Canal Opens Up Direct Water Route.

China offers one of the most profitable fields for the development of foreign trade by American firms, according to lean Arnold, United States Commercial Attache, stationed at Pekin, who spoke before the Foreign Trade Bureau of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce at four months touring large cities and encouraging manufacturers to turn atention to Chinese trade. He will be in any interested manufacturers in room 02 Third National Bank Bullding. Preceding his address before the For-

Post-Dispatch reporter, he declared Mississippi River and Panama Canal to China. The business men here, he said. do not appear to realize that they have a Pacific coast and that for the purposes of transportation St. Louis is practically on the coart. They should cease constantly looking to the Atlantic, he said, and begin to look to the Orient. To illustrate the possibilities of trade velopment in China, he said:

"Imagine a country with four time he population of the United States and reater area, yet having only 5000 miles reat mineral resources little developed. s certain to be rapid from now on and ate a vast market for American machin

He named the following as some of the products which China needs and which St. Louis manufacturers could terials for export to this country, thus lling the ships on their return voyages. There is no danger, he said, that Japan may monopolize the Chinese trade, for the demand is much more than Japan could possibly supply. Furtherore, he said, the Chinese like the Americans and prefer to do business with them, all other things being equal. "The great necessity for Americans at resent," he said, "is that they have the capital to develop China. We should make loans directly to the Chinese to build railroads and factories and open nines and we should stipulate that merican machinery and American supplies are to be used in the work. In that way we could to a certain extent control the market. There are now bout 130 American firms in China and they are rapidly extending their busiears. He will go from here to the eturn to his post.

careful perusal of the records I am con-vinced any lack of preparation for rigors of winter which may have contributed to the unusual health conditions in the Alabama brigade of the national guard was not due to any lack of foresight or ction on the part of officers stationed t Nogales, but to slow methods and inctivity of those in control, located at a housand miles or more distant."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 year

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box.

He also sent a special message to Con-gress formally announcing the Admir-al's death and paying tribute to him. Naval officers said that probably never before had such signal honor been paid miral Dewey in Secretary Daniel's order sent broadcast by the Arlington wire-less station to American vessels and shore stations everywhere.

He was placed by congress on the active list until such time as he might see fit to apply for retirement. But his active spirit could not rest. He never folded his hands. LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Housewife's Version.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have just read "Trouble of a Cook" in your "Letters From the People," and as I am at present particularly interested in the help question, I am wondering if you will permit a few words

For the most part, the avant girl does not know how to do anyt all, and worse still, is unwilling to learn, plain seeking, which means that she can serve an unutterable mess of meat and potatoes that ody can eat. She does not know how to set a says on applying for a situation that she can and her knowledge of serving is nil-or she ands that it is. I have had girls that had pre-sly worked for families that I knew were very loular as to their mode of living, and yet then they came to me they simply slid back into their own slovenly ways and I did not get the senset of their former training. They did not news that Prohibitionists in convention there assume the serve. They were like the girl who said

I know that to some extent the simply cannot understand my point of view.

Things that make all the difference in the world to me she looks upon as of no consequence at all and continues to de her way is spite of heaven and earth. She will also almost invariably leave when there are guests in the house. I am not permitted to invite my family or friends into my own house on pain of loaing my maid. Recently I had a girl whe on one eccasion broke her right arm for a menth she was practically helpless. However, the rest of us will doubtless be able to get along with this charming and ingenuous female. They can't hand out too many of her photographs to suit us.

FOOLS TO THE FRONT.

We doubt if there is a lunatic asylum in the country which would tolerate such a proceeding as that going on before the House Committee on Rules.

Most of the inmates of lunatic asylums have their lucid intervals, in which they are as quick as anybody else to resent insults to their intelligence. I have had many, and found them all alike. It seems to me that the servant question should by all means be brought and kept before the public eye. The comfort and happiness of the American home is really perpendiced by present help conditions. Sensething should be done—not only for the house-wife, but for the "girl" as well. She is now leaved.

JOBS AND PROFITS.

Gov. Gardner has outlined to the General As sembly an excellent plan for the reorganization of the penal and reformatory institutions of the State on a basis of economy, humanity and ef-

It will do the work which is new done for each institution separately by a number of guard nonsense of the Lawson testimony, which boards. It will contract for supplies for all, thus was plainly inspired by an appetite for notoriety insuring economy of purchase. It will make all and self-advertisement, it is well to remember that appointments, thus making for competent management. It will provide for the disposition of offenders in such a way as to give them the fullest possible opportunity for education, trade training, self-support and reform.

The plan provides what the State penal and reformatories lack. It promises to turn our disgraceful and inhuman penitentiary into a credit Archbishop Glennon and Bishop Tuttle join with and an asset to the State.

tion by legislators elected to conserve the honor and interest of the State over a plan of this kind. One would think that legislators would enthusiastically and promptly seek and adopt a plan to save money, save manhood and womanhood and redeem the name of the State. But they do hesitate. There is bitter opposition to the plan. Its adoption and the enactment of laws to carry it out is considered doubtful for two reasons. 1. JOBS.

The abolition of separate boards and the reduction of employes—the substitution of one central board for several local boards and the reduction of many incompetent to a few competent employes reduces the spoils at the disposal of Democratic party leaders.

The patronage of party leaders and the jobs of party workers weigh more than the interests of the State.

It is hinted that there will be opposition to the reform plan from friends of the new Warden, former Lieutenant-Governor Painter, because its sympathies lie or what his origin. It is a potiadoption would deprive him of his job. The job tion in behalf of humanity and civilization, directof one office-holder weighs more with some legislators than the interest of the State in humane, economical, efficient prison management. 2. PROFITS.

The adoption of the plan would cut off the great profits of contractors in convict labor and in supplies under the old inhuman extortionate, in efficient system. The losses of the State and the certainly fairly well educated, and has efficient system. The losses of the State and the to do one thing well. She is right in exto be paid for doing it. It is merely her inefficient penitentiary management weigh less with some legislators than the excessive profits of contractors and dealers.

The petition to the President, which is to be indorsed and signed by protesting citizens throughout the country, follows:

I. RESOLVED, That we, citizens of St. Louis, trespective of political affiliations, respectfully but urgently request the President of the United States to take such further measures as in his judgment will be effective in checking further deportations of Belgian men and women by the occupant German authorities, and in procuring the restoration of those already deported.

II. RESOLVED, That if at any time satisfa tory evidence of similar deportations by other belligerents is secured, our condemnation

GNATS, CAMELS AND MR. PERKINS. Though a minor incident, the refusal of the Hon

George W. Perkins to assist further in the G. O. P .-Bull Moose amalgamation because John T. Adams of Iowa was chosen vice chairman of the national committee is one of the most curious incidents of late politics. Mr. Adams is described as a reactionary, but what must be his brand of reaction if Mr. Perkins is unable to condone it after all he condoned in the campaign? Becrusted old reactionaries controlled the Republican national convention. They exerted an influence during the campaign much greater than that a mere vice chairman can exert. They spilled the beans when Mr. Hughes visited California. Now when an almost unknown man whose reactionary views are only putative is given a subordinate place in the party organization. Mr. Perkins kicks up a row.

A formal approval of Mr. Perkins' withdrawal from the political peace dinner was at once forthuse of the unattractiveness and monotony tives, it is hard to escape the feeling that the able that both have some new move in contemplaher means of livelihood, and I realize that she Prohibitionists' viewpoint explains itself. Such nice distinctions may not be important around Boston, but in Missouri grammar they are essential especially when one is speaking of the Missouri mule. will admit that the prosperity we are having now is "That ought to be fair. It seems absurd for any such agreement to be proposed, but I don't know how we could otherwise hope to pitch our national campaigns upon a higher plane than they have been enjoying. The times are always attributed by the people to the party in power. The Republicans have taken advantage of this singular condition time and again, and even Col. Boosevelt tells us the Democrats were not to be beaten last fall, when the country

"Probably this is as truly a part of the folk lore of the country as the tradition with respect to the proper phase of the moon for planting potatoes or that of the influence of the Zodiac upon pains in the feet. Let us say the Democrats had denied any responsibility for the present prosperity. Is it any likelier the people would have believed them than if times had been hard and they had asked not to be blamed? I don't think so. The Republican party kept itself in power for at least 25 of the last 50 years with professions which sometimes denied even Providence any credit; but the people went right on swallowing that grotesque fallacy just the same.

"It is the Democratic party which has most to gain by the removal of this aged sophism from American politics. It has something else. The Reublican party naturally wants to retain it, because it hasn't anything else. The thing for the Democrats to do is to make terms with the Republicans while they have them down. If they will threaten to reign 50 years, as the Republicans did, on the basis of $2 wheat and Republican incompetence in business, the iblicans will sign up in a hurry. They know their own thunder when they hear it."

What is pretty generally thought of other people's property and keeping it up nicely is indicated by what joyriders do to an automobile. If they wreck a car before they abandon it, they still show almost as much consideration for what belongs to someone else as is usual with respect to what belongs to other people. One would suppose that a joyrider would buy a little oil before he would grind out the bearings of a car with which he is having a good time chiefly at someone else's expense; but after all that is not quite in human nature. If we look around we discover most of the property that is nicely and carefully handled to be in the hands of its owners. Automobiles have not discovered this great truth to us. They have only emphasized it with the occasional crash of something ponderous and valuable removing

The news will read, 'GREAT POET DEAD.' JULIA CLOPTON CRESAP.

One of our readers who knows about military things suggests that it is scarcely likely, as he read in one of our morning papers of yesterday, that the First Regiment is going to fire a salute of twenty-one guns when the Free Bridge is opened. He thinks the Battery, which has the guns, might fire some sort of salute; but if the Pirst Regiment, which has no guns, undertakes something of the kind it will be done with rifles, exactly as the police, if they attempt a salute, will probably do it with pops. We know little of such things, but you may safely take it from our readers. We do know, however, that twenty-one guns is the President's salute and the one with respect to which we had such a bitter controversy at Vera Cruz, which makes us suspect on our own hook that this is not even the number of guns to be fired. Probably what is planned is a gun for each year it has taken us to build the bridge, which would be firing enough,

There are so many characters on the stage in the drama of our midwinter thuggery that the average newspaper reader cannot hope to recall who is who. The police ought really to group the different kinds of outlaws as much as possible and thus keep down the detail to be carried in one's head as the action proceeds. Whether the young man charged with having robbed the cashdrawer at Mr. Bratwurst's butcher shop is also suspected of having run with the jug of molasses from the United Groceries at Fifteenth and O'Fallon, or if he is, also held upon identification by 87 residents of the 5700 block on Page as the day. light burglar recently operating in that neighborhood, is too important for any of us to be in doubt. If a more intimate knowledge of crime is all we get out of being robbed and singged all over town, we are all the more entitled to that knowledge as clearly as may be. It should not be presented to us as a riddle which only some Cedipus among us is to flows while the rest of us wonder.

As we understand the audion amplifier, in which the fall of a feather sounds like a wrestler hitting the mat, the terrific crash of merely falling asleep is happily to become the means of keeping awaks

Mear once a day is often enough for any one and one slice of meat is plenty. I don't mean the thick restaurant slice, but the ordinary helping a man gets at home. The man who eats meat for dinner and eggs for breakfast will have breakfast enough if he takes one egg. Eggs and meat are both protein food. The body gets other protein food incicentally in cereals, bread and potatoes. Potatoes are excellent food, as they supply bulk and are mainly water.

Too many try to live regardless of Health, Strength, Ambition, Energy and Hope. They exceed the Speed Limit. They dissipate their nerve-strength and energy and fail to re-imburse or store up a reserve. Thereafter they only "exist." At the same time they are taunted with the natural desire to live and to succeed.

Without Energy, Ambition and Strong Nerves you cannot Hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success in any pursuit.

If your heart-nerves do not throb strong enough to give your senses keenest relish, to make your brain work acutely and your body respond to every dictate of your mind, then you become "dull," listless, sluggish, hopeless, despondent, and you become less and less capable in every way.

India paper makes the new Encyclopaedia Britannica so light in weight that you can easily lift it and move it about-and there are 44,000,000 words, 30,000 pages, 15,000 illustrations and maps in it!

"I bought the Britannica to use. I expect to get out of it in dollars many times more than I paid for it. I know what a wonderful book it is for anyone who uses it. India paper makes it so light, so convenient, so inviting, that one can't fail to read it frequently. You say the Britannica printed on India paper is 'five times more valuable' than on ordinary book paper. I should say 'a hundred times more valuable.' This is based on my own experience.

"I owned a set of the old Britannica on heavy paper, but I didn't read in it four times a year. It was too heavy; I never had much inclination to look up anything in those big, bulky books.

> "I've had the new Britannica, printed on the delightful India paper, less than six months. I use it constantly, looking up whatever I want to know, sometimes reading as many as four and five articles a night."

This experience is repeated over and over in the case of owners of the new Britannica, for of the 160,000 sets already sold

ON MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE

Jump of 2 Cents From Yesterday's Close Carries Price to New High Level on the Crop -Wheat Also Is Strong.

TRURSDAY'S COMPARATIVE FUTURE QUOTATIONS.

chants' Exchange today, despite un certain shipping conditions due to the German raider. Small primary receipts, builish foreign crop and statistical news, and elimination of peace prospects as a bear factor also helped the advance.

May corn futures sold above $1.62, and established new records on the crop and for options since the Civil War period. Small receipts, good cash and export sales and cold weather increasing feeding demands favored the buils. Oats were a sharp fraction higher with corn.

Fifteen cars of No. 3 corn sold at $1 here today, the first time the new crop has sold at the $1 mark. Seele Bros. Grain Co. sold the grain to the Corn Products Co.

Broomhall's, Liverpool cable said: "Wheat market is very firm, on fears of light arrivals; all export offers strong. Corn market strong, with unfavorable Argentine news. Oats market strong, with unfavorable Argentine news. Oats market strong, with scarcity of spot and expectation of demand.
